Empire Energizer Community Update

May 1, 2023

Dear Neighbor,

With our Community Open House just around the corner, we wanted to provide an overview of what to expect. The open house will provide two sessions of engagement for you to visit with subject matter experts and members of the Empire Wind 2 project team, learn about the project, ask questions directly to those developing the project, and contribute ideas.

How will it work? As you enter the open house space and check in, you'll be greeted by Susan and Grace from our team. The space will have several stations throughout that cover topics including (but not limited to) an overview of Empire Wind 2, community benefits, and marine life. Each station will be hosted by a member of the Empire Wind 2 project team who will take questions and engage in substantive dialogue.

We will have notetakers at each station to capture your feedback which will help inform engagement in the future, so please contribute! Attendees can feel free to move about the space at their leisure, from station to station, for as long or as little as they like. We will provide informational handouts and share simulations. It's an opportunity for the whole family to learn more about offshore wind and the Empire Wind 2 project. There will also be exciting activities for kids available.

Invitations are provided below in English and in Spanish, as well as on our event page. Please don't forget to register!

Spanish-language interpretation services will be available. Light refreshments will also be served.

If you can't make it, don't worry - we'll host the digital version of each station on the project's Community Events page.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Equinor in the Community

On April 20th, Community Engagement Manager Susan Lienau and Principal Engineer Alex Gomez attended an Oceanside Chamber of Commerce Meeting. They gave a brief presentation about the Empire Wind 2 project and took questions from attendees representing the Oceanside business community. Susan and Alex enjoyed their time with the Chamber and the productive conversations that took place. Thank you to the Oceanside Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber's Officers for welcoming Susan and Alex!
